Due to its small molecular mass, Lactic Acid acts rapidly once on the skin, producing results after only a few applications. Stagnant/dead cells are exfoliated, allowing new cells to be released. As a humectant, Lactic Acid reduces the trans-epidermal loss of water through the increased production of oils and fats within the skin, due to rejuvenation of youthful function of cells and stem cell function which helps hydrate the skin's cell structure - keeping it healthy, firm, supple and more youthful appearing.
